*In Memory of María Esther Falcón Samaniego
"La Simpática de Pocerí"*

Remembered for your unwavering pride in your small rural town of Pocerí de Las Tablas and your undying love. An avid reader of novels, well into your nineties, you would only read them if there was a happy ending. So, your daughter, Aida, would always read the last chapter before buying one for you to make sure that it ended "And they lived happily ever after." Forever in our hearts.

*Your Loving Granddaughter,
Nilka Damaris*
